Temporary or Permanent Finance Professionals

As you know, having the right finance team or accounts person can make all the difference to your business's financial security during these tough economic times. Like many companies, what may have worked before is no longer viable in the current climate. It is vital that you have the right person within your ranks to ensure your business is as financially secure as possible.

- We have experienced part or fully qualified accountants at all levels that are available immediately on a permanent basis to assist you in managing your company during these difficult times. Whether you are looking for someone to manage your entire finance function or require an experienced credit controller to help manage your cash flow, we have a 20,000 strong database from which we can draw the right person for you.
- Strategically placed interim cover is also a great solution at this time. They allow businesses to draw on the experience and specialised knowledge of an interim manager without the commitment of hiring full-time staff for projects that are only temporary in nature. Companies find the use of interim managers more cost effective because, in many cases, the interim manager not only develops the project strategy but also executes it or leads a team that does so.
- Should your budget not stretch to a full time person or even someone on a temporary or interim basis then we have a large number of experienced candidates available for part-time work with all the necessary qualifications but who are looking for that work life balance. These are the candidates that can provide you with the experience but for a reduced cost.

If you think your company could run more efficiently and want to learn more about the options available to you and your budget then call Ken Harbourne on 01 470 7980 now for a brief discussion on how Robert Half could help your business through these difficult times and beyond.
